Not illustrated. 1887 Excerpt: .than the place they have chosen so blindly, i The only fresh water to be obtained, and that of bad quality and scanty in quantity, was got by sinking casks pierced with holes in the sand through which the water filtered. Such timber as was required had to be brought from Arthur s Seat, some fourteen miles distant. The roar of the surf breaking on the back beach was a constant source of annoyance. The land was sandy and sterile. The brackish water disagreed with the men, and many of the best of them were laid up in hospital. (See Victorian Year Book, 1874. page 5.) I should have been of the first to counsel a massacre bloody. I am not unaware of the fact that they have in possession Implements of many kinds which to us would be handy and useful. Taking, however, account that their weapons are much more destructive Than any we are possessed of, and if we were to attack them Many men we should lose, my well considered advice is--Wait for three short moons, and then if no signs are apparent Of their making a move with the view of leaving their quarters, We will muster our men with spears and with waddies provided, Tomahawks and other weapons in use by the Woo-eewoo-ronga, War paint on our faces, our arms, our legs, and our bodies, And will attack them in force, and show these white-faced intruders That though our colour is...
